The Internet with Windows Glyn Moody 1996 Most people believe that using the Internet is impossibly complicated and requires special tools. This book shows how a new generation of Windows software lets you access the full power of the Internet using easy-to-use techniques you already know from other Windows programs.

Gale Guide to Internet Databases Joanna Zakalik 1995 "Fast access to 2,000 authoritative Internet information sites--each fully described. 5 easy-to-use indexes--master index to more than 8,000 individual Internet files. Includes a list of specialized home pages, Internet glossary, and bibliography"--Cover.

Internet Tools of the Profession Hope N. Tillman 1995 Provides a select list with full descriptions of Internet-accessible resources identified as valuable by participating divisions, caucuses, or other SLA units. Identifies the value added provided by the resources, or in other words to describe how these tools, sites, and resources made a difference to unit members.

Patent and Trademark Information Virginia Ann Baldwin 2013-05-13 Discover new techniques for researching patents and trademarks! Patent and Trademark Information: Uses and Perspectives addresses an essential yet undervalued and often underused class of scientific and technical information. Library staff, information specialists, corporation heads and administrators, inventors, school faculty, scientists, engineers, and engineering, science and library students will gain valuable insight on historical research, practical applications, and the availability and accessibility of patenting authorities. This book focuses on methods for searching international patents and trademark information for patrons of the library using the Internet, databases, and other sources. This book contains tips and nuts-and-bolts advice from experienced librarians who either practice in patent and trademark depository libraries or are experts in researching patents for library patrons. Their advice will help you navigate decision points and search paths for locating patent and trademark information from state, federal, and international sources. Special features include tables and figures, as well as bibliographies that provide extensive resources for locating additional information. The first half of the book is dedicated to issues involving patents, including: disseminating enemy technical information during World War II basic novelty patent searching in seven steps using patent information for historical genealogical research esp@cenet@—Europe's network of patent databases regional patent systems—a challenge for the international searcher patent data for technology assessment—applications, patent databases, and retrieval methods The second half of Patent and Trademark Information guides you in searching out trademarks, company and owner names, and databases. An entire chapter is dedicated to searching for trademark and/or company names for each of the 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia. Another chapter investigates five free international Web-based patent sites.

The SLIP/PPP Connection Paul Gilster 1995-05-29 Using Netscape, Mosaic, WinGopher, and other new graphical programs requires a Serial Line Internet Protocol (SLIP) or a Point-to-Point Protocol (PPP) connection to the Internet. But few computer users know how to establish such a connection. Fewer still know of the many benefits of graphical Internet access beyond surfing the World Wide Web. The SLIP/PPP Connection provides all the information you need to overcome the now-legendary obstacles of establishing these special Internet accounts and to achieve smooth, graphical access to the World Wide Web and the rest of the Internet. Written by internationally acclaimed Internet guru Paul Gilster, this is the first complete, step-by-step guide to getting, using, and maintaining a SLIP or PPP connection. You'll be able to select, find, and download the right hardware and software for every Internet application.

Guide to Technology Databases World Intellectual Property Organization 2002 The present Guide is a detailed technical paper aimed at industrial property office examiners and users in general to assist them in identifying the correct database and using the possible functionalities and tools offered by specific databases. The current Guide examines a selection of commercial and non-commercial database services considered representative of the broader population of existing services in order to illustrate types and combinations of features available through these services.
