Recommended Practice on Lighting for Educational Facilities 2000

Lighting Design for Schools Great Britain. Department for Education and Employment. Architects & Building Branch 1999 Lighting Design for Schools

Lighting for Industry and Security Stanley Lewis Lyons 1992 Provides a wealth of information about lighting for industrial applications and as an aid to security. As well as serving the needs of practising lighting engineers and specifiers of lighting it will also be a valuable reference for newcomers to the lighting industry. This is because technical terms and basic lighting concepts are explained in plain language.

Guidelines for Environmental Design in Schools Great Britain. Department for Education and Employment. Architects & Building Branch 1997 This guide provides advice on meeting the standards prescribed in The Education (School Premises) Regulations 1996. It replaces Design Note 17. The guidelines are aimed at the designers of new school buildings but may also be used for the improvement of existing buildings.

The Colour, Light and Contrast Manual Keith Bright 2010-01-06 Endorsed by the Society of Light and Lighting, this practical book offers comprehensive guidance on how colour, light and contrast can be incorporated within buildings to enhance their usability. The book provides state-of-the-art, clear guidance as well as available information source for busy professionals involved in the design or management of new and existing environments. The ways colour, light and contrast are used within built environments are critical in determining how people interact with the space, and how confident, safe, and secure they will feel when doing so. They also have a major influence on a person's sense of well-being and their ability to use the environment independently and without undue effort. Understanding how to use colour and contrast and how they are influenced by both natural and artificial lighting is vital for all those involved in the design and management of the environments and spaces we all use. In recent years there has been a considerable amount of work undertaken to further our understanding of how colour, light and contrast affect emotion and sensory abilities, and how they can assist or hinder people in their everyday lives. Other publications consider these issues individually but The Colour, Light and Contrast Manual: designing and managing inclusive built environments draws knowledge and information together to produce a unique, comprehensive and informative guide to how the three elements can work together to improve the design and management of environments for us all. Lighting Design + Application 1996

Lighting the Electronic Office Gary R. Steffy 1995
 Improper lighting at computer terminals and other work stations can seriously damage the health of workers. This book offers real solutions to that problem and systematically examines all sides of this critical issue. Analyzing current legislation standards and voluntary guidelines, it develops a consensus and recommends means of implementation. 50 illustrations.

Mechanical and Electrical Equipment for Buildings Walter T. Grondzik 2011-01-31 For more than half a century, this book has been a fixture in architecture and construction firms the world over. Twice awarded the AIA's Citation for Excellence in International Architecture Book Publishing, Mechanical and Electrical Equipment for Buildings is recognized for its comprehensiveness, clarity of presentation, and timely coverage of new design trends and technologies. Addressing mechanical and electrical systems for buildings of all sizes, it provides design guidelines and detailed design procedures for each topic covered. Thoroughly updated to cover the latest technologies, new and emerging design trends, and relevant codes, this latest edition features more than 2,200 illustrations--200 new to this edition--and a companion Website with additional resources.

Code for Lighting Chartered Institution of Building Services Engineers 2002 The Code for Lighting has been revised and updated to include exterior lighting as well as interior lighting. The book takes into account new legislation such as the 2002 revision of Part L of the Building Regulations as well as new and forthcoming International and European Standards on lighting and ergonomics. It also reflects new initiatives on energy conservation in the UK. This book is primarily intended to provide guidance to those responsible for the design, installation, commissioning, operation and maintenance of building services. * Fully updated to take account of the Building Regulations 2002 Part L revisions * Key reference tool for interior and exterior lighting * Illustrated in colour throughout

Lighting Design Carl Gardner 1993-06-08

Because the lighting of commercial interiors and exteriors is considered to be one of the most important elements in interior and architectural design, the range of sources, fittings and control technology, and the effects achievable with them, is rapidly multiplying. Illustrated throughout with project case studies and product/effect examples, each chapter is cross-referenced to enable the reader to move from a particular scheme to a featured fitting, then to a range of relevant sources available.
