Nature Sir Norman Lockyer
1892

Four Colours Suffice Robin J. Wilson 2003 The four-colour problem was one of the most famous and controversial conundrums ever known, and stumped thousands of puzzlers for over a century. It sounded simple- what is the least number of colours needed to fill in any map, so that neighbouring countries are always coloured differently? However, it would take over a hundred years for amateur problem-solvers and mathematicians alike to answer the question first posed by Francis Guthrie in 1852. And, even when a solution was finally found using computers, debate raged over whether this technology could ever provide the proof that traditional pen-and-paper calculations could. This is the gripping story of the race to solve the riddle - a tale of dedicated puzzlers, mind-boggling maps, human ingenuity and the great rhombicuboctahedron New Abacus 6 Ruth Merttens 2001-02 Covering the background and philosophy of the "New Abacus" programme, this book shows how it delivers UK curricula requirements, offering examples of good practice in planning, and record-keeping and assessment. It has a specific correlation including NNF matching charts for England and Wales.

Challenge Book Ruth Merttens 2000-04-14 Aimed at pupils requiring further enrichment and extension, the challenge books develop able pupils' mathematical understanding within a unit. They use open-ended and problem solving activities, but require minimum teacher input and minimum use of additional materials.

Coloring Book - The Adventures of the Numbers

Ronit Shaltiel 2017-01-24 This coloring book is an adventure of the numbers one to twenty.
In this book, I would like to present math to young kids as a way of fun. They can color the numbers and the objects that represent the numbers.
They can see that there is more than one way to get to the same result. It is a book for children from ages four to seven, who are beginning to learn about numbers and math.
This is the third book of a series, that book is the version of Multiplication and Addition, it will start from number one and will add one number and object in each page until number twenty.

Art-Based Games Don Pavey

2024-02-09 The visitor to an Art Arena game is confronted with an enormous piece of paper covering one wall of the room. Groups of players are at work painting, some with spontaneity or abandon, others with thoughtful precision. Back from the wall are knots of players calling our apparently cryptic information to those at work on the paper, or transmitting it in coded sounds using whistles, pipes and various home-made instruments. Colours are phased across the wall, sometimes colliding, sometimes mingling, or encircling each other. But what is the connection between the sound flow and the painting? This book, originally published in 1979, describes the beginnings of a new approach to art education – an approach based on the use of games in art. The games draw not only upon artistic and design skills, but also upon those that teachers in all subjects try to develop in their pupils: logical thinking, breadth of judgement, imagination and sensibility in handling materials and media. They also provide a vehicle for familiarizing players with a wealth of concepts and data from different topics. The approach aims at promoting group work and cooperative interaction, and has proved to be of interest to social workers and to teachers of disabled and difficult children. It has been tried out with an unusual variety of groups, from mixed and low ability to groups of gifted children, students and adults, and while the level of playing has varied, the games have elicited high involvement from participants. While referring to game theory and research, the book is essentially practical, giving instructions for inventing and playing games, and descriptions of a number of games played by different groups. The end of the book gives a detailed list of concepts and suggestions for further reading, and lists of materials and suppliers.
