L'IMPOSSIBLE The future rarely arrives in tune... this book arrives intentionally out of tune, its frequencies are scraped against the grain so that the static itself becomes a signal. From Buzzcocks to Bob Dylan, from attention metrics to AI slop, it shows how creativity survives once the Spectacle starts auto-tuning itself. If you still believe culture should be dangerous, imperfect and fun, press play. If you'd like to think, get an interesting perspective on how we are, and every now and then laugh out loud, you should read this book. Along the way, you'll have the opportunity to learn about things that matter, or at least should matter, to anyone involved in AI-age marketing. Philip Graves. author of Consumer.ology Chairman of the Bored doesn't just take us through the post-internet post-modern condition, it crashes through, making connections and framing issues in a way that is one third philosophy, one third lesson on your own brain, and two-thirds performance of its own points. That's 33% more book than most - enjoy! Brandon N. Towl, PhD. writer and founder of Human Driven Understanding 'Compelling and thought-provoking, Eeon masterfully challenges dogma, busts myths and encourages the reader to question everything'. Phil Barden. author of Decoded. The Science Behind Why We Buy. It's 18 punky reflections on the place where madness of modern marketing, technology and culture meet. Essentially what Wired would be (if it was written by a human who understood culture, brain science)-a suppository for techbros and techgirls everywhere. Mark Earls. writer, speaker, HERDmeister Eeon delivers another sharp and entertaining dive into modern marketing and advertising through the lens of evolutionary psychology. It's a great read for anyone fascinated by human behaviour, primal instincts, and the hidden drivers behind consumer decision-making. You won't be bored!

Wiemer Snijders. marketing consultant and Editor of Eat Your Greens It's a kaleidoscopic guided tour through the reality and philosophy of our minds at a million miles an hour. I promise you, this is like no book about advertising you've ever read." Bob Hoffman. writer, speaker and AdContrarian What drives creative work and why it so often goes wrong? Written in Eeon's trademark acerbic style, uncover how people really behave when they try to make something new. Richard Shotton. author

Tracking Ancient Legends Alan Dale Daniel 2013-09-27 Can we logically combine recent research on human origins with ancient legends of floods, paradise lost, and cloud clad gods destroying civilizations? Yes, says author Alan Daniel, who has thoughtfully joined key primordial legends with mitochondrial DNA research, archeological and anthropological finds, and geological evidence in Tracking Ancient Legends. DNA evidence shows a small band of humans crossed out of Africa into Eurasia about 100,000 BC; however, why is lost to the primordial mists. But the why may be answered by primeval legends overlooked until now. The author theorizes that prehistoric legends may explain the flight from Africa. The model set forth is fascinating, as well as epic in scope. Competing theories are examined, including the ancient astronaut concepts, and the foundations of theory itself. Are aliens from other worlds the source of our legends, or is something much more earthly and surprising the groundwork of our legendary past?

Dichotomies: Lessons from a College Life on Tour Alex Dontre 2019-10-29 The touring band life of a full-time student is full of dichotomies. From 2011-2017, Alex Dontre performed 505 concerts with his band Psychostick while simultaneously pursuing a college education. It culminated with a master's degree in Business Psychology from Franklin University, at which time he gave the commencement speech at his graduation as valedictorian.

Multiscreen UX Design Wolfram Nagel 2015-12-11 People today use technology on different devices in different locations. Users expect to access information on all relevant screens and across multiple channels through smartphones, tablets, laptops/desktops, smart (internet-connected) TVs, and other devices, such as smartwatches for example. Multiscreen is no longer a nice add-on, it's a requirement. In this environment, user experience needs to cater to multiple devices. This book provides a holistic approach that will help UX professionals to offer a hands-on guide for UX design across multiple screens. It presents an opportunity to learn how to cater designs for customers. Readers will find patterns, strategies, examples and case studies, methodologies, and insights to help inspire them to develop a viable strategy for their own digital products and services. UX professionals will walk through important elements of multiscreen UX: - Investigating the devices and their capabilities - Understanding the users and their capabilities - Considering the context in which users use these devices - Navigating next generation information experiences and the future of content management - Designing content and UI architecture for multiscreen projects - A hands-on, practical guide to UX design for how users approach content - across

Innovative Research Methodologies in Management Luiz Moutinho 2017-12-05 A seminal collection of research methodology themes, this two-volume work provides a set of key scholarly developments related to robustness, allowing scholars to advance their knowledge of research methods used outside of their own immediate fields. With a focus on emerging methodologies within management, key areas of importance are dissected with chapters covering statistical modelling, new measurements, digital research, biometrics and neuroscience, the philosophy of research, computer modelling approaches and new mathematical theories, among others. A genuinely pioneering contribution to the advancement of research methods in business studies, Innovative Research Methodologies in Management presents an analytical and engaging discussion on each topic. By introducing new research agendas it aims to pave the way for increased application of innovative techniques, allowing the exploration of future research perspectives. Volume II explores a range of research methodologies including the Spatial Delphi and Spatial Shang, Virtual Reality, the Futures Polygon and Neuroscience research.

Why We Buy Paco Underhill 1999 The culmination of 15 years of meticulous research and observation, this riveting audiobook offers hilarious anecdotes and amazing hard facts about one of Americas favorite pastimes. Abridged. 7 CDs.

Includes brand new material covering the US election and Brexit Every day, many people will try to change your mind, but they won't reason with you. Instead, you'll be nudged, anchored, incentivised and manipulated in barely noticeable ways. It's a profound shift in the way we interact with one another. Philosopher James Garvey explores the hidden story of persuasion and the men and women in the business of changing our minds. From the covert PR used to start the first Gulf War to the neuromarketing of products to appeal to our unconscious minds, he reveals the dark arts practised by professional persuaders. How did we end up with a world where beliefs are mass-produced by lobbyists and PR firms? Could Google or Facebook swing elections? Are new kinds of persuasion making us less likely to live happy, decent lives in an open, peaceful world? Is it too late, or can we learn to listen to reason again? The Persuaders is a call to think again about how we think now. New Scientist 1987
