Economics is a social science discipline that investigates how individuals, businesses, governments, and societies allocate scarce resources to satisfy their unlimited desires and needs. Economics can be defined in a few different ways. It's the study of scarcity, the study of how people use resources and respond to incentives, or the study of decision-making. It often involves topics like ...

Economics is the study of how humans make decisions in the face of scarcity. These can be individual decisions, family decisions, business decisions or societal decisions. In the 20th century, English economist Lionel Robbins defined economics as "the science which studies human behaviour as a relationship between (given) ends and scarce means which have alternative ... One of the fundamental principles of economics, described by Adam Smith in "The Wealth of Nations". Work can be undertaken more efficiently if broken up into discrete tasks. Economics is the study of how we make choices in the face of scarcity and how those choices motivate behavior. As individuals, families, and nations, we confront difficult choices about how to use limited ...
