Spectrometric Titrations Jürgen Polster 1989

Here, recently developed methods for the topic announced in the title are summarized clearly and concisely. The first two parts cover relevant theoretical and methodological background, as well as definitions for key technical terms and give a systematic examination of an assortment of filtration systems, including equilibria of the acid-base, metal complex, association (or bonding), redox types. Treatment is limited to homogenous phases; problems posed by precipitation or other phase separations are deliberately ignored. The last section is devoted to experimental considerations related to UV/VIS, fluorescence, CD/ORD, IR, Raman, and NMR, and to the application of these tools to spectrometric filtration. At least one concrete example is provided with respect to each of the corresponding methods. The literature is covered fully up to the end of 1986. An appendix lists two computer programs, EDIA and TIFIT which the authors used to interpret data.
