

Dialectical Journal Notes

A Story of Their Own Rebecca Jean Peacock
2003

Strategic Teaching and Learning 2000 Noting that the quality of literacy instruction in the upper grades is equally essential as literacy in the primary grades, this book focuses on helping students' needs in the upper grades and the needs of all teachers in grades four through twelve who endeavor to help students read to learn across the curriculum and comprehend at grade level, and accelerate the development of beginning and struggling readers. The book is divided into two sections: a theoretical background (Understanding the Reading Process; Developing Strategic Readers; and Delivering Strategic Instruction) and instructional strategies (Reading Comprehension; Vocabulary Development; Phonological and Print Skills). The theoretical background discusses understanding the reading process; developing strategic readers; and delivering strategic instruction. The instructional strategies discuss reading comprehension; vocabulary development; and phonological and print skills. (Contains 3 figures and 66 references.) (PM).

Ideas Plus 1984 This book presents 30 brief practical teaching ideas for writing and English instruction in secondary classrooms. The first chapter presents various strategies for helping students learn to write well: students compile their own examples of effective writing; they turn interviews into gift books; they record their own activities for a whole day to help them develop an eye for detail; and they practice supportive peer-feedback techniques. Other activities in the first chapter focus on close observation, word play, and poetry writing. The second chapter presents activities intended to foster appreciation and understanding of literary works--among the elements of these strategies are a dialectical journal; a list of questions to help students analyze characters; guest poets; a discussion of banned books; an examination of conflict between friends; and an in-depth poetry project for seniors. Freeze frames, a reading quilt, and riddles that require research are a few of the activities in the third chapter entitled "Explorations." Other activities in the chapter vary in focus, but they have several things in common: they inspire teachers; they motivate students; and they offer opportunities for genuine learning in the classroom. questions that high school teachers should ask and answer when planning brain-compatible lessons and an in-depth explanation of each of the questions. Guidance on building relationships with students that enable them to learn at optimal levels. It is a wonderful time to be a high school teacher! This hands-on resource will show you how to use what we know about educational neuroscience to transform your classroom into a place where success is accessible for all.

Teaching Students to Read Like Detectives

Douglas Fisher 2011-10-10 Prompt students to become the sophisticated readers, writers, and thinkers they need to be to achieve higher learning. The authors explore the important relationship between text, learner, and learning. With an array of methods and assignments to establish critical literacy in a discussion-based and reflective classroom, you'll encourage students to find meaning and cultivate thinking from even the most challenging expository texts.

Orca Soundings Resource Guide Susan Gey 2009-09 This resource guide enables a teacher to implement the Orca Soundings series as part of a comprehensive independent reading and literacy unit.

Elements of Literature Holt Staff 1989

The Journal Book for Teachers of At-risk College Writers Susan Gardner 1999 Educators across the grades and across the curriculum have long recognized the usefulness of journals to help student writers. But what about basic writers, learning-disabled students, and nontraditional and returning students? One of the values of journal writing is its accessibility, yet no one has seemed to consider how at-risk students might benefit. With this new collection, the first of its kind, Susan Gardner and Toby Fulwiler provide much-needed advice. The authors of these essays are all experienced teachers of at-risk writers, both at two- and four-year colleges. They know the at-risk students they are describing. Some readers will recognize the students as "basic" writers in basic writing courses. Others will find chapters written by writing center directors who serve a variety of students we might term as "at risk." There are also chapters from educators who work specifically with Deaf students, ADHD students, and learning-disabled students. Each one describes uses of the journal and the adjustments to the assignment that make the journal such an accessible and instructive writing genre.

The Journal Book Susan Gardner 1999 Susan Gardner and Toby Fulwiler extend high-quality guidance in journal writing to teachers in technical and professional programs.

Orca Currents Resource Guide Kate Hill 2009-09-01 Orca Soundings are teen novels for reluctant readers. Orca Currents are middle-school novels for reluctant readers. Written at a grade 2.0 to grade 4.5 reading level, these compelling contemporary novels have proven incredibly popular with teachers and librarians looking for material that will engage their most reluctant of readers. Orca has always provided professionally written teachers guides to accompany these books. Now we offer a complete resource guide to enable classroom integration of these popular titles. Including sections on reading levels, book discussion groups, literacy circles, assessment and follow-up activities, this resource guide enables a teacher to implement the Orca Soundings and Orca Currents series as part of a comprehensive independent reading and literacy unit.

Read, Write, React Lonna Smith 1996-08 Designed for developmental reading courses that integrate the teaching of reading and writing, this text actively involves the students in their own language development, and helps them build their language abilities through a variety of readings and integrated writing activities. Divided into three parts, it introduces strategies for reading actively, for identifying main ideas and supporting details, and for understanding inference and the writer's purpose.

Reading Horizons 2000 Reading Horizons began in 1960 by Dorothy J. McGinnis as a local reading education newsletter and developed into an international journal serving reading educators and researchers. Major colleges, universities, and individuals subscribe to Reading Horizons across the United States, Canada and a host of other countries. Dedicated to adding to the growing body of knowledge in literacy, the quarterly journal welcomes new and current research, theoretical essays, opinion pieces, policy studies, and best literacy practices. As a peer-reviewed publication, Reading Horizons endeavors to bring school professionals, literacy researchers, teacher educators, parents, and community leaders together in a collaborative community to widen literacy and language arts horizons.

The Writer's Toolbox Stuart Cameron Brown 1997

Orca Sports Resource Guide Sarah N. Harvey 2009-09-01 Perfect for reluctant teen readers, the Orca Sports titles combine mystery and adventure with team sports such as hockey, baseball, football and soccer, and solo sports like scuba diving, running, sailing, horse racing and even race-car driving. Written by popular, award-winning writers such as Sigmund Brouwer and Nikki Tate, Orca Sports books engage young readers with exciting plots and easy-to-read language. The Orca Sports Resource Guide provides teachers with ideas for connecting each title in the series to the curriculum, the text and, most importantly, the students. Certain to encourage lively discussion in the classroom, the Orca Sports Resource Guide is a valuable tool for teachers who want to give their students the very best.

Rapport Writing Angelina Diliberto Allen 1996

The Reading/writing Connection Carol Booth

Olson 2007 "This is an especially well-researched and documented text...the author's voice is one that is knowledgeable, yet does not intend to intimidate. She speaks to her audience as a dedicated professional to professional. I could only hope that my students would read and retain her words of wisdom." "-Anna L. Bolling, California State University-Stanislaus" "I haven't seen any books that come close to what Carol Olson has developed." "-Harry Noden, Kent State University" "The illustrations and scanned-in documents make Booth-Olson's book readable, interesting, relevant, and real-life.

These visuals from actual students help transform her ideas from theory into practice." "-Kathy Bussert-Webb, The University of Texas at Brownsville" "This is the only secondary text that I have found to explain and provide authentic examples of reading/writing workshop process. The activities are practical and motivating. Hurray for Olson." "-Donna Uebler, Bradley University" Now in its second edition, "The Reading/Writing Connection" features an array of individual reading and writing strategies, activities, and mini-lessons that teachers can implement in their classrooms. Well-respected author Carol Booth Olson extends far beyond most books intended for teachers of language arts by integrating reading and writing in creative, theory-based ways. Lauded by students and professors as a clear and straightforward text, this revised and updated edition includes plenty of material about teaching the writing process and responding to literature, and provides examples of lessons that help readers learn specific strategies. Unique in its field, "The Reading/Writing Connection" provides student models at middle and high school levels in almost every chapter, illustrating actual student responses to reading and writing activities. The text is also rich with literary selections, giving teachers easy access to the literature featured in the activities and demonstration lessons.

Features New to the Second Edition Extensive coverage of differentiated instruction for English Language Learners A new chapter entitled "Introducing Students to the Cognitive Strategies in Their Mental Tool Kits" that summarizes and clarifies students' use of cognitive strategies in their thinking An extensive and revised companion website that features reading and writing rubrics, student models, blackline masters of graphic organizers, and much more, available at www.ablongman.com/olson2e

A Festival of Literature Ideas Sandy Woolley 1988 This informative guide combines important background information for any literature program with innovative ideas to make literature relevant and exciting. A festival for your classroom, this wide variety of activities is a great source of fun and enjoyment for all who participate. Grades 1-6 Learning in College Mary K. Bixby 1999-08 For Study Skills, Student Success/Orientation, and Freshman Seminars in two and four year schools. This refreshingly light-hearted book explores learning through reading, writing, speaking and listening strategies and emphasizes the important relationships between and among the language systems. Offers insights into theories about language and learning.
