Teacher Perception of Pacing Guide Use in the Secondary Classroom

Donna Michele Smith Turner 2015 Historically, teachers have exercised considerable autonomy in the day-to-day learning that occurs in their classrooms. Now, it is growing increasingly rare for a teacher to experience this type of professional freedom. In response to high-stakes testing, national and state academic content standards, and most recently the common core standards, pacing guides are one of the more recent devices schools are using to implement and monitor curriculum. The purpose of this research project is to investigate teacher opinion toward these pacing guides. An online survey called the Pacing Guide Survey was delivered to secondary regular and special education teachers in core subject areas of mathematics, science, social studies, and language arts. The teachers were asked about whether or not they use pacing guides, their attitude and comfort level in using pacing guides, as well as: Information concerning the population of their high school, such as demographics, enrollment, and single or multiple high schools; Building level factors, such as professional development initiatives, methods of curriculum monitoring, and pacing guide development and revisions processes; teacher factors, such as years teaching, years using pacing guides, confidence in content area, and educational background. Administrators were also interviewed to form a complete picture of pacing guide development and implementation in the secondary education environment. Quantitative data were analyzed using bivariate Spearman's rank order correlation and qualitative data were analyzed using a combination of thematic data analysis and quasi-statistical methods. Recommendations based on the data collected are: Teachers should be provided with the flexibility to address student needs in the classroom. Teacher input into pacing guide development, implementation, and revision process is necessary to ensure that student needs are addressed. Team autonomy is key and teacher teams need to be provided with the necessary support structure to provide meaningful learning experiences for their students.

Pe Game Plan Natalie Boone 2010-01-01 You won't be completely ready to start the new school year without this must-have tool for planning your lessons for each class throughout the year. Perfect for beginning teachers, as well as veterans, "PE Game Plan: Lesson & Unit Planner for Elementary & Middle School Physical Educators" gives you a ready-made format for planning effectively. The book is divided into five sections: 1. Focus Charts, for deciding which skill themes and movement concepts are appropriate for each grade level. These charts can help you list skill themes and movement concepts to be covered in a logical order. 2. A Unit Plan Pacing Guide, for developing a yearly physical education curriculum as a brief overview for the entire year. Use the pacing guide as a big-picture guide to mapping out decisions on what to include in the curriculum for each grade. 3. Scope & Sequence Charts, for making decisions concerning the depth, or scope, of the curriculum and how it should be sequenced on a weekly basis. 4. Weekly Lesson Plans, in a "week at a glance" format, helping you make in-depth decisions on warm-up activities, practices and games before writing the daily lesson plan. Also included on the CD-ROM that accompanies the book, so that you can download it to your computer for easy use and reuse. 5. A Daily Lesson Plan format that you can photocopy - or download from the CD-ROM -- for precise, in-depth planning on a daily basis.
