Them That Are Called J.G. Parker 2025-06-27 An indomitable horde, nearly immune to the weight of time, marauds through the cosmos. From the seat of Earth's veiled realms, they quest with calamity in their wake, destroying endemic life on every world they darken. Searching for an ancient power, to satisfy the vendetta of their infamous and self-named god; Ethoabba. Death is gorged by their work. Until they are discovered and pursued by them that are called. For fans of epic fantasy blended with science fiction, in modern or distant settings. This narrative weaves together mythos from across the globe, covering challenging ethical questions through the vehicle of war and violent conquest. Told from the perspective of a few key characters who find themselves thrown into it.

“You are not vandun. Or any other. You are the feign who chose. Each of you. The scourge of every system and every star that exists.” And Gamaliel is upset by this but he resists wearing the emotion in response. Though his station does not compare well to the boy's, he is still thousands of years beyond Judah in age. He has seen galaxies die and be born. And he is mistaken, for he presumed respect was warranted to him by this contrast of time between them. Yet it is obvious to any that the boy has no respect to offer this near-immortal. Aggravation unseats his fear at an exponential rate, and Gamaliel's slow pacing ceases. He becomes spent on the scorn that stabs him, and he can no longer afford caution a mind to pay. Arms wide, he raises his wings and stretches them far. His objection is passionate now, and his resistance wanes. “Melek Kosi, you are unprovoked! Why must this contest be ever-present between us?! How many stories have you heard where one of mine tried first to speak and left without assault? And yet it's here before you. You listened like you were different, your legend says you are, already! But here you are, no less committed to attacking the harmless. Attacking me, despite my insistence that I am leaving as no threat to you! You mean to bludgeon me nonetheless? I am trying to LEAVE, and I've done you no wrong!” He chops the air with his careless hand in frustration. “Would you DAMN us ALL?! -” Too liberally does he allow his hand to fall. It touches the metal of his hammer ever so lightly, as he takes a careless step toward Judah. Threat enough. The boy erupts with an answer, for the approach was sudden and demanded an impulsive response. The ferocity of that lion is loosed, at last. Faster than the eye blinks, Judah is upon him.

Richard Matheson on Screen Matthew R. Bradley 2010-09-24 Though innumerable biographies have been written about novelists, playwrights, and poets, screenwriters are rarely granted this distinction, even ones as prolific and successful as Richard Matheson. He has occupied a unique position in cinema as the writer or original author of films from The Incredible Shrinking Man in 1957 through I Am Legend in 2007. This book documents his rise to prominence, parallel literary career, and role in the horror and science fiction renaissance. In chronological order, the exhaustively indexed narrative examines each film written by Matheson or based on his work, with sections devoted to episodic television (including The Twilight Zone) and unproduced projects.

Shakespeare on Film, Television and Radio Luke McKernan 2009 Everything about the how as well as the why of studying audiovisual Shakespeare is provided here, from silent cinema to the multiplex, and from cat's whiskers to Youtube.

Georgetown's Retail Past Kenneth G. Peters 2026-03-03 Step back in time and rediscover the bars and restaurants, mom-and-pop shops, and bustling storefronts that shaped historic Georgetown. Georgetown's Retail Past is a history of retail stores in the Georgetown neighborhood of Washington, DC, over the decades when the original eighteenth-century tobacco port became a working class neighborhood, later a restored historic enclave, and in the 1980s a retail destination. The history illuminates trends that changed retailing, including the transition from horse-drawn to automobile transportation, the advent and growth of home appliances, the decline of the barbershop, and the evolution of the grocery and laundry businesses. A chapter for each type of store provides sketches of businesses and their owners from various time periods. Many of the neighborhood stores were started by immigrants, and some immigrant families owned multiple stores over multiple generations; their entrepreneurial spirit is apparent throughout. Georgetown's Retail Past is illustrated with more than 125 black-and-white images, including historic and current photographs, maps, and store advertisements.
