Enhancing Internal Trip Capture Estimation for Mixed-use Developments

Brian S. Bochner 2011 TRB's National Cooperative Highway Research Program (NCHRP) Report 684: Enhancing Internal Trip Capture

Estimation for Mixed-Use Developments explores an improved methodology to estimate how many internal trips will be generated in mixed-use developments - trips for which both the origin and destination are within the development. The methodology estimates morning and afternoon peak-period trips to and from six specific land use categories: office, retail, restaurant, residential, cinema, and hotel. The research team analyzed existing data from prior surveys and collected new data at three mixed-use development sites. The resulting methodology is incorporated into a spreadsheet model, which is available online for download.

Psychological Testing Robert M. Kaplan 1993 This accessible and engaging book for undergraduates is less cluttered with details than other books for the course and students like to read it! It offers an up-to-date analysis of the most widely-used tests in educational, industrial, clinical, and health settings. The Third Edition features a significant increase in the number of test profiles, sample items, and figures, while it addresses timely and controversial topics such as nationalized testing, test bias, and cross-cultural issues. Kaplan and Saccuzzo cover the technical principles of test evaluation and construction in a concise, comprehensible manner, using practical examples from "real life." Assuming no theoretical background and little knowledge of statistics, the book provides thorough coverage of basic statistical concepts while ensuring an understanding of important principles.
