Teaching Academic Writing in the Health Sciences Ella August 2026-04-07 Immersing trainees into academic research culture helps them learn to think, write, and publish like full-fledged researchers. Teaching Academic Writing in the Health Sciences offers best practice pedagogical strategies to help instructors, mentors, advisors, lab leaders, and ministries of health as they guide trainees toward professional development and publication. With practical strategies and examples, the book supports readers in improving their mentoring skills; creating effective writing assignments; providing effective feedback; developing writing courses; and planning publication workshops, retreats, and writing groups. In addition, the book includes strategies for supporting writers with varying backgrounds, including second-language speakers and neurodiverse writers. Part 1 offers the pedagogical basis teachers need to apply best practices, as well as: Tips for collaborative writing and writing productivity Strategies for using generative artificial intelligence (AI) technology in teaching and writing Open-access resources and instruction planning activities Part 2 focuses on the steps of writing a scientific paper, offering: A strong foundation in the structure of and strategies for successful writing Customizable teaching materials on how to write a scientific paper Strategies for planning a paper, crafting writing to reach readers, developing persuasive arguments, and building a successful author team How-to write each section of a paper, from the title to the conclusion Guidance on navigating the publishing process, including selecting the appropriate journal and effectively responding to peer-reviewer comments

Science the "write" Way Jodi Wheeler-Toppen 2011 Writing skills are high on the list of real-world requirements for all students including science students. Every scientific discipline needs professionals who can ably communicate in writing. Scientists must be able to describe their proposed studies for funding considerations, track their observations and results in their own notes, describe their experimental protocols for their peers to replicate, and synthesize their work to the wider world community."
