Teaching Communication across Disciplines for Professional Development, Civic Engagement, and Beyond

Joanna G. Burchfield 2023-05-22 In Teaching Communication Across Disciplines for Professional Development, Civic Engagement, and Beyond, contributors discuss topics inherent in merging communication across disciplines, including challenges and opportunities, teaching and research, communication and student identity, future directions, and the transformative possibilities of teaching communication across disciplines. A cross-disciplinary approach provides an avenue for the integration of a broad education that prepares students for global citizenship and civic engagement. Ultimately, this book argues that positioning communication as a theoretically rich process of social interaction and meaning with attention to rhetorical sensitivity can expand the vision of communication across the disciplines. The increased demand for communication expertise opens opportunities for exploration, growth, community development, and cross-disciplinary alliances. Scholars of communication, English, and education will find this book of particular interest.

Learning foreign languages: experiences of persons with disabilities and special educational needs and their teachers Ewa Domagala-Zysk 2025-09-22 In many parts of the world, it is not a person's native language - but a foreign one - which is used for education, work or entertainment. This is true for many European countries whose inhabitants need to learn English as a foreign language if they want to participate in education or among diverse fields in the workforce. In other parts of the world, it might be Spanish, Hindi, Mandarin Chinese, Arabic or other languages which will be serving a similar role. This need for learning a second language is understood well in many educational programs, including those for students with special educational needs. However, to date, there is not much research of the experiences of persons with diverse additional needs as learners of foreign languages. The most robust literature covers the field of additional language acquisition among Deaf and Hard of Hearing (DHH) people (cf Domagała-Zysk, Podlowska, Moritz 2021 and others). Goals, methods and forms of teaching are fairly well described, and DHH students' needs have been documented extensively.

The Teacher's Guide to Learning by Doing Trevor R. L. Jones 2026-05-01 Are your students merely memorizing content for the next test or are they truly developing the thinking skills they'll need for life? This book equips educators to design learning experiences that stick - long after the final test is over. Offering practical strategies, this guide shows you how to spark curiosity, deepen conceptual understanding, and promote meaningful student agency through your lessons. Drawing from 25 years of classroom wisdom, Trevor R. L. Jones introduces the Enhanced Learning by Doing (LbD) Cycle - an innovative instructional model that works across grade levels and subject areas, offering a flexible framework that builds on your professional expertise to elevate student outcomes. Through authentic classroom narratives, student reflections, and ready-to-implement strategies, you'll learn how to:

- Create interesting entry points for connecting your lessons to students' real lives.
- Lead hands-on activities that reveal important patterns and relationships.
- Integrate reflection practices that foster metacognition and personal growth.

The Teacher's Guide to Learning by Doing provides both inspiration and practical action steps for K-12 teachers in any setting - public schools, private academies, international programs, or alternative learning environments - who want to transform their teaching practice. Your journey toward concept-based, inquiry-driven instruction starts here!

Managing School Intellectual Capital for Strategic Development Eric C. K. Cheng 2022-07-29 Cheng articulates the extent to which knowledge management approaches can create Intellectual Capital (IC) and contribute to improvements in education quality. He argues that public schools have long contended with the requirements of quality assurance in a competitive environment of decreasing student numbers, increasing parental choice and rising standards of accountability. As public organisations, schools have to demonstrate appropriate resource management and show evidence that they are meeting defined development plans and goals. Cheng proposes a strategic approach, IC management, to help schools respond to and cope with the increasingly competitive environment while enhancing school capacity for improving student learning. First, the book guides readers to understand the development of IC theory in the context of education to address the requirements of quality assurance and accountability. It then introduces Lesson Study, e-Learning, and Information and Communication Technology (ICT) as key resources and drivers for building school IC, and examines the organisational factors that enable knowledge management approaches for developing IC in schools from both Asia and Europe. It concludes by offering strategies and implementation methods to manage school IC for sustainable development. Combining research from Asia and Europe, this edited volume will be useful for school leaders and policy makers, as well as those researching school leadership and IC.
