Archiwum elektrotechniki 1981

Piecewise Polynomial Functions 1976 This report contains a series of talks presented during the summer of 1975 at LLL on the general topic of piecewise polynomial functions. Such functions offer simple, accurate, economical, and flexible procedures for solving a wide variety of problems. The emphasis is on curve fitting, surface fitting, and applications to finite element approximations. This discussion is not intended as an all-inclusive, general presentation of piecewise polynomials. Rather, attention is directed to the basic of cubic (and bicubic) interpolation and approximation, since they represent a good first choice for many problems when increased accuracy over linear (or bilinear) approximations is desired. The text is divided into sections on univariate functions, cubic splines, bivariate functions, blending functions, and nonrectangular domains. 10 figures, 1 table. (RWR).

Numerical Methods in Environmental Data Analysis Moses Eterigho Emetero 2022-07-17
Numerical Methods in Environmental Data Analysis introduces environmental scientists to the numerical methods available to help answer research questions through data analysis. One challenge in data analysis is misrepresentation of datasets that are relevant directly or indirectly to the research. This book illustrates new ways of screening dataset or images for maximum utilization, introducing environmental modeling, numerical methods, and computations techniques in data analysis. Throughout the book, the author includes case studies that provide guidance on how to translate research questions into appropriate models. Individuals working with data sets or images generated from environmental monitoring centers or satellites will find this book to be a concise guide for analyzing and interpreting their data. - Bridges the theoretical underpinnings of modeling to research - Illustrates the computational resolution of environmental issues alongside the use of open-source software

- Provides information on the use of analogue versus digital data treatment processes
