The Archaeology of Food and Identity Katheryn C. Twiss 2007 The chapters in this topically and methodologically diverse volume discuss the role food plays in the construction and maintenance of multiple levels of social identity; they also illustrate the myriad ways in which archaeologists may approach the issue. The book includes essays from archaeologists working in a wide range of time periods and areas: prehistorians and historical archaeologists, specialists in the Old World, and experts on the New World. Contributors use diverse data sets to discuss how food-procurement strategies, consumption patterns, and modes of cooking and dining are intertwined with the construction and maintenance of individual and group identities.

Middle School Life Science Judy Capra 1999-08-23 Middle School Life Science Teacher's Guide is easy to use. The new design features tabbed, loose sheets which come in a stand-up box that fits neatly on a bookshelf. It is divided into units and chapters so that you may use only what you need. Instead of always transporting a large book or binder or box, you may take only the pages you need and place them in a separate binder or folder. Teachers can also share materials. While one is teaching a particular chapter, another may use the same resource material to teach a different chapter. It's simple; it's convenient.
