Signal Processing, Image Processing, and Graphics Applications with Motorola's DSP96002

Processor: Signal processing Mohamed El-Sharkawy 1994

Least Square Estimation with Applications to Digital Signal Processing Arthur A. Giordano

1985-03-07 A unified treatment of least squares based on geometric principles. Establishes the mathematical framework of least square estimation, demonstrating the utility and widespread use of these principles in a variety of digital signal processing applications. Presents new least square error algorithms supporting applications in areas such as communications, control, radar, and seismology. Provides numerous examples with algebraic steps outlined.

Proceedings of the International Workshop on Applications of Neural Networks to Telecommunications Joshua Alspector 2013-06-17 The world is witnessing the rapid evolution of its own nervous system by an unparalleled growth in communication technology. Like the evolution of the nervous systems in animals, this growth is being driven by a survival-of-the-fittest-mechanism. In telecommunications, the entities that fuel this growth are companies and nations who compete with each other. Companies with superior information systems can outrun and outsmart others because they serve their customers better. On the threshold of an explosion in the variety, speed and usefulness of telecommunication networks, neural network researchers can make important contributions to this emerging new telecommunications infrastructure. The first International Workshop on Applications of Neural Networks to Telecommunications (IWANNT) was planned in response to the telecommunications industry's needs for new adaptive technologies. This workshop featured 50 talks and posters that were selected by an organizing committee of experts in both telecommunications and neural networks. These proceedings will also be available on-line in an electronic format providing multimedia figures, cross-referencing, and annotation.
