Educational Innovation in Economics and Business Roger Ottewill 2013-03-09 Like previous volumes in the "Educational Innovation in Economics and Business" series, this one is genuinely international in terms of its coverage. With contributions from ten different countries and four continents, it reflects the worldwide interest in, and commitment to, innovation in business education with a view to enhancing the learning experience of both undergraduates and postgraduates. It should prove of value to anyone engaged directly in business education, defined broadly to embrace management, finance, economics, informational studies and ethics, or who has responsibility for fostering the professional development of business educators. The contributions have been selected with the objective of encouraging and inspiring others as well as illustrating developments in the sphere of business education.

Critical Perspectives on Economics of Education Silvia Mendolia 2022-05-18 This book brings together leading scholars in the field to provide insights on economics of education. The book begins with an overview of education and human capacity development and looks at the production of education through individuals' learning, education financing, and the role of individual circumstances. It also analyses the complex relationship between education and mobility and highlights what key challenges for education systems in a global world are. Each chapter provides detailed analysis of interesting and policy-relevant topics in the fields of education economics and human capacity development. This book is a useful reference for those who wish to understand the changing landscape and models of higher education in the context of digital advances and innovation. It will also be of interest to those in the areas of education and training.

Teaching Economics Online Abdullah Al-Bahrani 2024-08-06 In the light of the Covid-19 pandemic, this book is not only timely but essential reading, providing valuable insight into teaching economics both online and in a blended online/in person format. Diverse in scope, Teaching Economics Online combines past experience with innovative ideas on how to design teaching and improve the overall learning experience whilst remaining inclusive, effective and resilient.

Intermediate Microeconomics Steve Erfle 2017-09-14 The overarching premise of this text is that microeconomics is most effectively learned in an active learning, interactive environment. Students have access to more than 200 Interactive Excel Figures in the online text that allow them to move the graphs using sliders and click boxes. This interactivity helps students understand how graphic elements relate to one another. These files do not require knowledge of Excel. More figures than are typical and many of the figures involve multiple scenarios of the same basic graph. Often the text employs interactive questions that require interpreting these scenarios; questions posed are answered at the bottom of the page. Despite the geometric orientation this text is not light on algebraic analysis. The geometry is backed up by the relevant algebra. More than 500 equations are numbered for easy reference both within and across chapters. And, just like the geometry, the algebra is essentially error-free because it was used to create the graphs. The geometric orientation is perfect for the non-calculus enhanced classroom but the text can be readily used in a calculus-based class because a calculus treatment of the material is provided in appendices and endnotes, and calculus-based problems are included in the Intermediate Microeconomics: An Interactive Approach Workbook.

Teaching Economics William E. Becker 2006-01-25 "Teaching Economics is an invaluable and practical tool for teachers of economics, administrators responsible for undergraduate instruction and graduate students who are just beginning to teach. Each chapter includes specific teaching tips for classroom implementation and summary lists of do's and don'ts for instructors who are thinking of moving beyond the lecture method of traditional chalk and talk."--BOOK JACKET.
