Robotics and Factories of the Future '87 R. Radharamanan 2012-12-06

The papers presented at the Second International Conference on Robotics and Factories of the Future held in San Diego, California, USA during July 28-31, 1987 are compiled in this volume. Over two hundred participants attended the conference, made technical presentations and discussed about various aspects of manufacturing, robotics and factories of the future. The number of papers published in this volume and the number of unpublished presentations at the conference indicates the evidence of growing interest in the areas of CAD/CAM, robotics and their role in future factories. The conference consisted of five plenary sessions, twenty three technical sessions, workshops, and exhibits from local industries and educational institutions. I wish to acknowledge with many thanks the contributions of all the authors who presented their work at the conference and submitted the manuscripts for publication. It is also my pleasure to acknowledge the role of keynote, banquet, and plenary sessions speakers whose contributions added greatly to the success of the conference. My sincere thanks to all session chairmen. I wish that the series of the International Conferences on Robotics and Factories of the Future which was initiated in 1984 in Charlotte, North Carolina will have a major impact on the use of robots and computers in the automated factories of the future.

Manufacturing In The Era Of 4th Industrial Revolution: A World Scientific Reference (In 3 Volumes) 2021-01-13 The era of the fourth industrial revolution has fundamentally transformed the manufacturing landscape. Products are getting increasingly complex and customers expect a higher level of customization and quality. Manufacturing in the Era of 4th Industrial Revolution explores three technologies that are the building blocks of the next-generation advanced manufacturing. The first technology covered in Volume 1 is Additive Manufacturing (AM). AM has emerged as a very popular manufacturing process. The most common form of AM is referred to as 'three-dimensional (3D) printing'. Overall, the revolution of additive manufacturing has led to many opportunities in fabricating complex, customized, and novel products. As the number of printable materials increases and AM processes evolve, manufacturing capabilities for future engineering systems will expand rapidly, resulting in a completely new paradigm for solving a myriad of global problems. The second technology is industrial robots, which is covered in Volume 2 on Robotics. Traditionally, industrial robots have been used on mass production lines, where the same manufacturing operation is repeated many times. Recent advances in human-safe industrial robots present an opportunity for creating hybrid work cells, where humans and robots can collaborate in close physical proximities. This Cobots, or collaborative robots, has opened up to opportunity for humans and robots to work more closely together. Recent advances in artificial intelligence are striving to make industrial robots more agile, with the ability to adapt to changing environments and tasks. Additionally, recent advances in force and tactile sensing enable robots to be used in complex manufacturing tasks. These new capabilities are expanding the role of robotics in manufacturing operations and leading to significant growth in the industrial robotics area. The third technology covered in Volume 3 is augmented and virtual reality. Augmented and virtual reality (AR/VR) technologies are being leveraged by the manufacturing community to improve operations in a wide variety of ways. Traditional applications have included operator training and design visualization, with more recent applications including interactive design and manufacturing planning, human and robot interactions, ergonomic analysis, information and knowledge capture, and manufacturing simulation. The advent of low-cost solutions in these areas is accepted to accelerate the rate of adoption of these technologies in the manufacturing and related sectors. Consisting of chapters by leading experts in the world, Manufacturing in the Era of 4th Industrial Revolution provides a reference set for supporting graduate programs in the advanced manufacturing area.

Steigerung der Prozessfähigkeit gewandelter Montagezellen durch Selbstreferenz Alexander Schönberg 2018-02-21 Wandlungsfähige Montagesysteme sollen auf Marktänderungen reagieren, die über den Flexibilitätsrahmens hinausgehen. Roboterbasierte Montagezellen profitieren beim Wandeln von automatisierten Prozessen zur Sicherstellung der Prozessfähigkeit. Die Selbstreferenz als Lösungsansatz ermöglicht durch Kommunikation, Wahrnehmung und Kompensation die direkte Ausführung eines idealisiert gewandelten Prozesses. Die Abweichungen werden selbstständig reduziert und die Prozessfähigkeit automatisiert gesteigert.

Control and Programming in Advanced Manufacturing K. Rathmill 1988-01-15 Successful implementation of computer integrated manufacturing systems is increasingly dependent on sophisticated control and programming techniques. This latest volume in a highly acclaimed series gathers together recent important papers, including some not previously published, to provide an overview of the latest developments in both high-level programming and simulation and modelling techniques. The emphasis throughout is on programming as part of an integrated control strategy for industrial automation.
